Event Summary:

The “TechCraftt” event , held by ITSA Committee on 24th January, 2025 at Vasantdada Patil Pratishthan’s College of Engineering & Visual Arts, provided a platform for students to exhibit their technical acumen and creativity through a series of engaging rounds. The event commenced with the Hex Game, where participants had to guess the hexadecimal values from color samples. This was followed by the CSS Battle, where students were given an image and tasked with recreating a flag using CSS. The final round was the Find the Flags challenge, where participants were given technical puzzles and clues to find hidden flags. The event successfully showcased the students' diverse technical talents and problem-solving abilities.

Event Proceeding:

The event began at 2:00 PM with a formal introduction, where participants were briefed on the rules and structure of the competition. The introduction set clear expectations for each round, ensuring a uniform understanding among all teams. This allowed the participants to approach each round with confidence and focus.

The competition was divided into three exciting rounds:

1. Hex Game: In this round, participants had to guess the hexadecimal color values based on the color sample shown. The game tested their knowledge of color codes and their ability to quickly recall technical details under time constraints.

2. CSS Battle: In this round, participants were provided with an image and were required to recreate a flag using CSS. This round evaluated their creativity, technical proficiency, and web design skills. The challenge focused on the participants' understanding of CSS and their ability to implement it in a practical scenario.

3. Find the Flags: This round involved participants solving technical puzzles and using the clues provided to discover hidden flags. The round tested the participants' problem-solving and analytical abilities, as well as their ability to think critically to find solutions.

The event concluded at 4:00 PM, with a formal vote of thanks from the organizing committee, acknowledging the hard work and contributions of all participants.
