Event Summary:

The First Year (FY) Orientation, organized by the Information Technology Student Association (ITSA), served as an engaging introduction for new students entering the IT department. This event aimed to familiarize students with the IT department, provide insights into available opportunities, and foster connections among peers.

Event Proceeding:

The Head of the IT Department welcomed all first-year students, expressing enthusiasm about their entry into the vibrant world of information technology. The HOD Sir provided an overview of the IT field, highlighting its rapid evolution and the vital role it plays in various industries. Students were encouraged to stay curious and engaged with emerging technologies & explained how placement teams work such as:-Providing internship opportunities along with their academic activities so students can apply their practical knowledge in professional settings, gaining hands- on experience. Working alongside professionals allows students to understand the dynamics of the workplace and the skills required for success & many more.

The HOD Sir introduced the Information Technology Student Association (ITSA) as an essential resource for students. ITSA offers a variety of opportunities, including workshops, internships, networking events, and competitions. Participation in ITSA activities is highly encouraged, as it helps students develop practical skills and build professional networks.

The HOD Sir also welcomed representatives from the National Service Scheme (NSS), who introduced their mission of promoting social responsibility and community service among students. The NSS provides opportunities for students to engage in meaningful projects that benefit society, fostering personal growth and leadership skills. And then, the orientation included a variety of games and fun activities which was conducted by the ITSA Committee. These interactive sessions provided a lively atmosphere and encouraged teamwork among students.
